The returns presented are net of all relevant fees, charges, and costs associated with the private retirement schemes investment. These may include, but are not limited to, management fees, trustee fees, and other applicable charges. Over time, such fees and charges can materially reduce the overall returns on your investment.

It is important to note that the sales charge is deducted upfront and directly reduces the amount of the initial investment that is allocated to the fund, which in turn can have the effect of lowering returns to investors in the long run. These costs may be deducted from your investment amount, from the returns generated, or directly from the Fund's assets, and are reflected in the unit price (NAV per unit). This includes expenses related to the marketing and distribution of the Fund. Additionally, all fees and charges payable to the Manager and the Trustee are subject to applicable taxes and/or duties, which may vary from time to time as imposed by the government.

Given the impact these costs can have on your investment returns, investors are strongly advised to read and understand the contents of the Fund's disclosure documents and consider the cumulative impact of these costs before making any investment decision.

Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance and that unit prices and investment returns may go down, as well up.

PRS Provider's Commentary (as at 31 March 2026)

Geopolitical risks have intensified following the escalation of the US-Israel vs Iran conflict, driving oil prices higher and reviving global inflation concerns. This has led to a broad rise in global bond yields, reduced expectations for monetary easing, and heightened risk aversion toward emerging-market assets, including Asian currencies and fixed income.

Local bond market has seen yields move higher in line with global trends, while investors remain cautious amid increased volatility and expectations of heavier corporate bond issuances in near term. The combination of elevated supply and external uncertainty is likely to keep near-term sentiment defensive, particularly toward longer-duration and lower-rated credits.

That said, Malaysia's bond market remains underpinned by resilient fundamentals. Higher oil-related revenues, manageable inflation and Bank Negara Malaysia's stable policy stance continue to support market stability. As yields adjust upward, valuations are becoming more attractive, creating potential entry opportunities for medium- to long-term investors, especially in high-quality ringgit-denominated bonds and sukuk.

We prefer to stay neutral on portfolio duration now and focus on the belly of the curve (5 to 7 years) for carry and roll-down yield. We also prefer high quality corporate bond/sukuk over government bonds and maintain short term liquidity for trading purpose.
