Target Fund Manager's Commentary (as at 31 May 2025)

The new US administration has undoubtedly created uncertainty both geopolitically and for equity markets. This is not necessarily expected to abate in the near term, and macroeconomic headwinds have recently increased. However, high-quality, well-managed companies should continue to perform well over the longer term. In our view, those companies with strong fundamentals that have weathered the challenging operating environment of the past few years will likely continue to outperform, and we plan to take advantage of bouts of volatility to add to high-conviction names. We also continue to believe that, in environments like this, diversification will remain important, particularly as investment to tackle issues such as decarbonisation, deglobalisation and energy efficiency creates a broader opportunity for earnings growth. Our focus remains on building a diversified portfolio of quality businesses that are multi-year compounders, with pricing power and less gearing to the broader economy. We believe that our bottom-up approach will allow us to find such quality growth companies across a range of sectors and geographies.

As active managers, we continue to see the importance of regularly engaging with the companies we invest in to ensure that their values remain aligned with our own. Through regular communication and close relationships, we can ensure that we maximise sustainable outcomes for this strategy. In our view, the financial return and sustainable outcomes objectives are in perfect harmony and enable clients to invest in a better future.
