The returns presented are net of all relevant fees, charges, and costs associated with the wholesale investment. These may include, but are not limited to, management fees, trustee fees, and other applicable charges. Over time, such fees and charges can materially reduce the overall returns on your investment.

It is important to note that the sales charge is deducted upfront and directly reduces the amount of the initial investment that is allocated to the fund, which in turn can have the effect of lowering returns to investors in the long run. These costs may be deducted from your investment amount, from the returns generated, or directly from the Fund's assets, and are reflected in the unit price (NAV per unit). This includes expenses related to the marketing and distribution of the Fund. Additionally, all fees and charges payable to the Manager and the Trustee are subject to applicable taxes and/or duties, which may vary from time to time as imposed by the government.

Given the impact these costs can have on your investment returns, investors are strongly advised to read and understand the contents of the Fund's information memorandum and consider the cumulative impact of these costs before making any investment decision.

Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance and that unit prices and investment returns may go down, as well up.

Target Fund Manager's Commentary (as at 30 September 2026)

The Target Fund continued to focus on European companies that can benefit from long-term competitive advantages, significant pricing power, and high barriers to entry.

Regarding key transactions in the Target Fund, we sold our holdings in Hermes International, a French supplier of apparel, accessories and luxury goods. Besides, AIB Group, an Irish diversified bank, was added to the portfolio.

The top holdings of the Target Fund were ASML, a corporation from the semiconductor materials and equipment sector headquartered in the Netherlands, AstraZeneca, a British pharma company, and Schneider Electric, a corporation from the electrical components and equipment sector headquartered in France. The Target Fund 's heaviest overweights were Deutsche Börse, a financial exchanges and data firm, L'Oréal, a corporation from the personal care products sector headquartered in France, and AstraZeneca. On the other hand, the Swiss corporations, Novartis, Roche, as well as Siemens, a German industrial conglomerate, were the Target Fund 's main underweights at the end of September.

As a result of the Target Fund's specific stock selection approach, the average earnings per share (EPS) ratio of the Target Fund stood at 16.6, higher than the 15.6 of the benchmark. Overall, active management resulted in the following sector and country allocations: equities from the Information Technology, Industrials and Consumer Discretionary were overweight, while the Target Fund only held selective positions in the Financials, Health Care and Materials. From a regional perspective, the Fund had an overweight exposure to stocks from France, Ireland and the Netherlands, whereas stocks from Switzerland, the UK and Denmark were underweight.
