The returns presented are net of all relevant fees, charges, and costs associated with the unit trust investment. These may include, but are not limited to, management fees, trustee fees, and other applicable charges. Over time, such fees and charges can materially reduce the overall returns on your investment.

It is important to note that the sales charge is deducted upfront and directly reduces the amount of the initial investment that is allocated to the fund, which in turn can have the effect of lowering returns to investors in the long run. These costs may be deducted from your investment amount, from the returns generated, or directly from the Fund's assets, and are reflected in the unit price (NAV per unit). This includes expenses related to the marketing and distribution of the Fund. Additionally, all fees and charges payable to the Manager and the Trustee are subject to applicable taxes and/or duties, which may vary from time to time as imposed by the government.

Given the impact these costs can have on your investment returns, investors are strongly advised to read and understand the contents of the Fund's prospectus and consider the cumulative impact of these costs before making any investment decision.

Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future performance and that unit prices and investment returns may go down, as well up.

Target Fund Manager's Commentary (as at 30 September 2026)

Indian equities moved lower in September, pressured by surging oil prices and resultant domestic inflationary risks at the same time as sub-par monsoon rains and a strengthening El Niño weighed on food-price risks. While tensions in the Middle East and the uncertain opening of the Strait of Hormuz continue to dampen investor sentiment, India's overall energy import bill and inflation outlook appear manageable at this stage, though we are monitoring the situation.

Overall, headline inflation ticked up from 4.5% year-on-year in July to 4.8% in August, breaching the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI's) 2%-4% target band for the third month in a row and leading to a rate hike at the RBI's meeting in early October. Meanwhile, monetary conditions remained accommodative due to a liquidity surge from non-resident Indian repatriation deposits. Industrial activity was also strong, boosted by auto manufacturing and export growth across mobile phones and electronic equipment.

We remain constructive on the longer-term outlook for Indian equity markets. While uncertainty surrounding developments in the Middle East persists, investor attention has increasingly shifted back towards corporate fundamentals. We see encouraging signs from high-frequency economic indicators, solid corporate earnings, and improving foreign investor sentiment.

Compared with markets that are more heavily geared to the AI theme, India was largely insulated from the previous rotation among Tech and AI-related names. The breadth and liquidity of the Indian equity universe, along with more structural strengths such as low corporate leverage, provide a solid foundation for market resilience. Meanwhile, healthy credit growth is sustaining economic momentum, creating a supportive environment for consumption, investment, and corporate earnings.

Fundamentally, in our view India remains on a strong, long-term growth path. Valuations have now come back to more reasonable levels after adjusting to the challenges of the past year. Periods of heightened volatility often create attractive entry points in high-quality companies where structural drivers remain intact, and we generally approach macro-related volatility with this mindset. In terms of our investment strategy, we remain focused on sustainable compounders, clean balance sheets, and businesses with pricing power.
